Art Unit: 3632

This is the fourth office action for application serial number 10/087,318, Modular Radiant Heat Panel System, filed on March 1, 2002.

The indicated allowability of claims 4-6, 8 and 10 is withdrawn in view of the reference(s) to Shelley 4,635,710. Rejections based on the newly cited reference(s) follow.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 4, 6, and 8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by U.S. Patent No. 4,635,710 to Shelley. The present invention reads on Shelley as follows: Shelley teaches a heat transfer panel comprising of a formed tray (26). The tray comprises a fixture tower (20) and defines a containment space (defined between 14 and 26) and a conduit channel (16). The space contains a thermal mass (30). The channel, containment space and thermal mass is configured and arranged to permit heat transfer between the channel and the thermal mass. The conduit channel is a U-shaped trough or is cylindrical. The conduit channel comprises a linear section and an arcuate section.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 5 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Shelley in view of U.S. Patent No. 5,078,203 to Shiroki. Shelley discloses the claimed invention except for a side gusset.

Shiroki teaches a panel having a plurality of supports or gusset (4) located internally therein. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have modified the panel as taught by Shelley to have incorporated the gusset as taught by Shiroki for the purpose of reinforcing the panel.

Claim 10 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Shelley in view of U.S. Patent No. 4,865,120 to Shiroki. Shelley discloses the claimed invention except for the thermal mass comprises a composition selected from a group consisting of cement, mortar, ceramic, concrete and stone.

Shiroki teaches the thermal mass comprising a concrete layer (see col. 2, line 22+). It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have modified the thermal mass as taught by Shelley to have incorporated the concrete layer as taught by Shiroki for the purpose of promoting heat transfer between components.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claim 12 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 4-6, 8, and 10 have been considered but are moot in view of the new grounds of rejection.
